I have read the following:

- A student enrolled in a developmental course should attend and participate in this developmental course. Students who do not have a passing average of 70% or higher and who fail to attend or participate in their class on a regular basis will receive a grade of F. Students who do not have a passing average but do participate in class on a regular basis will receive a grade of IP.
- If a student who is enrolled in this developmental course fails to attend and participate (come to class on time, turn in homework when it is due, and take all exams when scheduled), then the student will be subject to withdrawal from this course without the possibility of reinstatement.
- I understand that if I am dropped, insurance and financial aid may be affected.
- A student enrolled in Math 0306, 0308, and 0310 who fails to earn a grade of 50% or higher on the departmental final exam, WILL NOT pass the course.
