COURSE OVERVIEW

This course serves as the Lone Star College first-year experience student success course. It is designed to provide first-year students with an opportunity to attain maximum success in college and in life. It will assist students in realizing their full potential by facilitating activities that promote effective learning and personal and professional growth. This course aims to achieve this goal by helping new students connect with LSC resources and promote a positive and successful college experience that leads to completion. At LSC, our data reveal that this course has been successful in increasing student success.

CATALOG COURSE DESCRIPTION

A study of the research and theory in the psychology of learning, cognition, and motivation; factors that impact learning, and application of learning strategies. Theoretical models of strategic learning, cognition, and motivation serve as the conceptual basis for the introduction of college-level student academic strategies. Students use assessment instruments (e.g., learning inventories) to help them identify their strengths and weaknesses as strategic learners. Students are ultimately expected to integrate and apply the learning skills discussed across their academic programs and become effective and efficient learners. Students developing these skills should be able to continually draw from the theoretical models they have learned.

Attendance and Participation: Attendance in face-to-face, hybrid, and online courses, including participation in D2L, is expected and supports student success. A student who anticipates an absence from class or an inability to access D2L should notify the instructor in advance. In case of an absence, it is the student's responsibility to obtain any make-up work, lecture notes, and assignments.

Tardies are disruptive to the instructional experience; therefore, 3 tardies will equal an absence. Tardies are defined as coming late or leaving early. If a student misses an extensive portion of the class [determined by instructor], he/she will receive an absence for that class period.

Absences from class or inactivity in D2L will directly impact the attendance points earned in this course. Points deducted for absences and tardies are determined by course and class length. Participation/attendance points are earned based on 100 points divided by the number of class meetings for face-to-face classes. Hybrid classes may divide 100 points by the number of face-to-face class meetings and weekly online participation expectations. For online sessions, 100 points will be divided by the number of weeks the class is in session.

The decision to withdraw a student for non-attendance will be at the discretion of the faculty. An instructor may withdraw a student for non-attendance if a student miss six (6) or more hours of class participation. Students who have never attended class from the first day of the term to the official day of record can be dropped per campus policy. Students who have not successfully completed the first two required SLO's prior to the official day of record and has not contacted the instructor may be withdrawn by the instructor.

An institution of higher education may not permit a student to drop more than SIX (6) courses, including any course a transfer student has dropped at another Texas public institution of higher education. Eligible criteria for a waiver include a) change of work schedule prohibiting attendance, b) active military, c) severe illness or debilitating condition, d) death of a family member, e) class cancellation, and f) complete withdrawal. Developmental Studies courses do not apply to this rule.

Last Day to Drop (Official Day): 9/12/22

Last Day to Withdraw: 11/14/22

Late and Make-up Work: This is determined on a case-by-case basis.

Other Class Policies: See the separate "Class Policy" document located in D2L in the Syllabus Module.

Communication Policy: Communication is best directed through the course located in D2L and a response will be given within 24 hours Monday through Friday. Every effort will be made for a timely response to emails sent on weekends, holidays, and institutional breaks when offices are closed.
